

ONE YEAR: 1914-1915

Harry Thacker Burleigh (1866-1949)

Flip the Stem

Text by Margaret M. Harlan

Dark pines 'gainst the blue,
Clean winds, a wide view,
Two arms and a kiss,
One moment of bliss;

"'Tis a thing to remember for years,
To remember with tears."

Battle birds in the sky,
Shriek of gun as they die,
Crash and roar bloody drench,
Black death in the trench;

What a thing forever to miss,
My God! her kiss and this!

Range:

One Year

1914-1915

Words by Margaret M. Harlan

Music by Harry Thacker Burleigh

Lento p

Voice

Piano

p p

with pedal

4

8

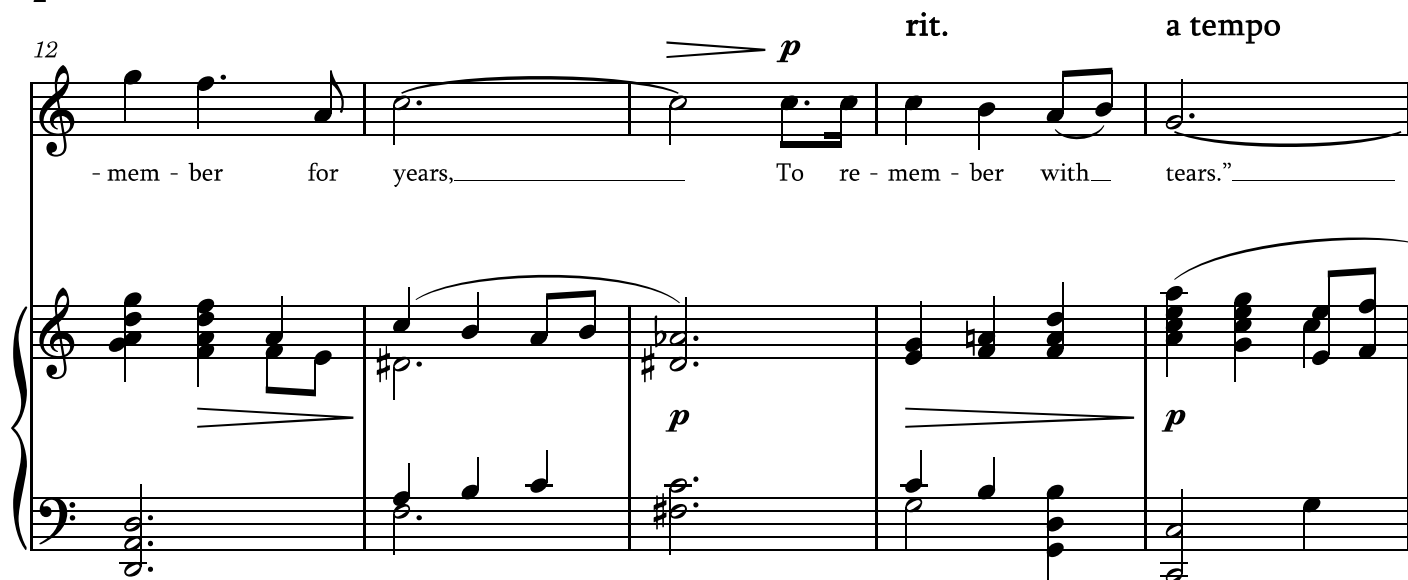

blue, Clean winds, a wide view, Two arms and a kiss, One mo - ment of bliss; 'Tis a thing to re - 12 p rit. a tempo

- mem - ber for years, To re - mem - ber with tears."

17

f più mosso

Bat - tle birds in the sky,

22

Shriek of gun as they die, Crash and roar

26 cresc. ff rit. dim.

blood - y drench, Black death in the 31 a tempo

trench;

pp p like a chorale pp

37 p

What a thing

mf

42 mp f

for - ev - er to miss, My God! her

46 ff

kiss and this!

ff smorzando

50

p mf pp

8ba